Butler on Kearney and the Press.

NEW YORK, Aug 14—The Herald reporter interviewed Butler yesterday He said Kearney is not indorsed by me, and he knows his own business as I do mine Swelling with indignation cheeks puffing and voice cast in high pitch Oh, the lying press, the infamous lying press of Massachusetts asserted that I brought the man east, that I paid him money to go on What fair play can be expected from such liars You know what God says in the Bible about lying, but let that pass. I have nothing to do with Kearney whatever He has gone east to please himself The true and honest things he may utter have my approval, and the foolish and absurd I can only grieve over I believe he means honestly, though he may have an unusual style of expression but you can't expect roses from thistles, and you must look to the nature of causes which produce such men and make them possible. Kearney is here, not by my invitation he is here as I understand, solely and wholly on his own responsibility

The government was quite willing to take the responsibility of sending a mission to Cabul, as it could not regard with indifference what had been passing in Central Asia during the last two months. THE POTTER INVESTIGATION

NEW YORK Aug 14—The Potter congressional committee continued the investigations this morning Col Wm H Roberts of the New Orleans Times testified that he was familiar with what was going on and saw all of visiting statesmen at New Orleans and they were not consulted about his visit to Ohio He merely mentioned to Stevenson Matthews and Silverman that the situation of white people in the state was desperate We had been defeated by the returning board in 1872 and again in 1874 and we were afraid of being defeated again in 1876 and the people were beginning to think an election was utterly useless We considered the election a fair and just one and we polled every white vote available but we feared being counted out by the returning board We all believed the returning board would not dare to have done what they did do without the moral support of the visiting statesmen These apprehensions about the returning board were what led to my visit to Gov Hayes We wanted to know what action he would take if elected He knew perfectly well that I was talking for the Democratic side We understood that the military would be withdrawn after the 4th March and they would be let down easily, but they would be let down

Gen Butler—Who do you mean by they?

A—The Packard government I understood Hayes to mean by fairness and justice that the returning board cheating should cease and that as I told him we had a clear majority of over 7 000 in the state the Nicholls government would be recognized There was no determination to resist the establishment of Hayes in the federal government We were more deeply interested in finding out what would be done if the Democratic vote of Louisiana was thrown out and Hayes counted in I did not hear of any forged electoral certificates of Louisiana In conversation with Foster he said it was strange that no Republican vote was cast in East Feliciana In my conversation with Senator Conkling I told him I thought Gov Hayes a very fair man and that he had told me that he would be president of all the United States or not at all I detailed to the senator all my conversation with Hayes Conkling replied, 'I am opposed to all this sort of thing If Hayes is elected he should get in without any concessions to Louisiana and if he is not elected he should not get in at all" In conversation with several gentlemen I remarked that the crookedness of the returning board in Louisiana was so bad and glaring that even the Republicans had to disavow all connection with it This applied to the previous election of Williamson Kellogg pretended to support Packard before the convention but he never intended him to be nominated

The next witness was John E Leet who is a reporter on the New Orleans Times. He testified that about 1872 he was engaged in getting up facts and evidence in support of the Kellogg government to lay before congress Other people made affidavits and sessions and committees and calls for gangs of men in the Packard government at all There is in the minds of the people of Louisiana that the members of Packard were elected governor although Kellogg served four years board in 1872 to get them to count in Kellogg Witness was to get the best office not traded off already and picked out the office of harbor master He never went near the office except to draw pay was constantly associated with Kellogg When I was removed I then got a position in the state senate as clerk Kellogg's excuse for all his failings was that he was tied up and embarrassed and could not was tied up and embarrassed and could not do what he wanted with his patronage He was situated just as Hayes is now Was afterwards made a tax collector in a small town, which he traded off for a seat in the state convention that nominated Packard in 1876 Witness was opposed to Packard and Kellogg wanted him to spring the nominations

Here Mr Roberts was recalled and Gen Butler said When did you first hear of the McVeigh commission?

A—About the 20th of February I think I was speaking with several parties, Mr. Foster among others and the question of letting down the Packard people easily came up Then a commission with a majority of Republicans on it was suggested Major Vinting and others said, it was a capital idea. The idea was that a commission sanctioned by the president and secretary of state would make the Republicans in Louisiana yield and give the state to the Nicholls government. It was well understood that the commission were under official instructions

Question by Gen Butler—Then you looked on the commission coming down there as a force?

A—Well, not exactly

Q—But no matter what the evidence and state of facts were the commission had to come to a predetermined conclusion.

A—It was predetermined that one government was to be let down easily.

Q—Then one Democrat was put on the commission to give it an appearance of fairness?

A—Yes, we wanted a cool collected man on the commission who would let us know what they were doing

Witness said he supposed the president or secretary of state was aware of the objects and instructions of the commission That the fairness and justice of our case was wiping out and letting down of the Packard government, Nicholls government having a majority of votes.

Q—Out of on your own showing and on the evidence that Nicholls was elected and Packard was not and on the decision of the commission should it not have been decided by them also that Tilden was elected and Hayes was not?

A—Undoubtedly as Tilden got nearly the same majority as Nicholls Witness said he understood that after Hayes inauguration the committee would be sent down to back the Packard government

Witness said we were well prepared for trouble We had determined that come what might we would have no more fraud with U S troops It was determined not to recognize the Packard government at all There is in the minds of the people of Louisiana that the members of Packard were elected governor although Kellogg served four years Witness was to get the best office not traded off already and picked out the office of harbor master He never went near the office except to draw pay was constantly associated with Kellogg When I was removed I then got a position in the state senate as clerk Kellogg's excuse for all his failings was that he was tied up and embarrassed and could not do what he wanted with his patronage He was situated just as Hayes is now Was afterwards made a tax collector in a small town, which he traded off for a seat in the state convention that nominated Packard in 1876 Witness was opposed to Packard and Kellogg wanted him to spring the nominations

LIMITATION OF THE RATE OF IN TEREST

To try to limit the rate of interest by in sertion of a special clause for that purpose in the new constitution of California is a pro ject now broached in that state by those who believe or affect to believe that such regula tion may really be made effective The Alta discusses the subject for the enlightenment of those who still appear to be so befogged upon it, presenting some new considerations based on the present condition of things in California It is generally assumed observes that paper that the lenders are the rich few and the borrowers are the poor multitude but this is an error In California the lenders often are the poor and the borrowers are the rich or the comparatively rich San Francisco has $70,000 000 in her savings banks, owned by about 45 000 depositors whose money is lent to 10 000 borrowers There are five lenders for one borrower Most of these lenders are poor people who have little besides their money in bank, av eraging for each one $1,500, the borrowers obtain on an average $7,000, the security given is always worth twice and often three or four times as much, and it is not unsafe to assume that the average borrower repres sents $20,000 No matter how great the de cline in the value of real estate, or how de pressed the condition of business, the bank is safe, because the security is abundant. Some money is lent by individuals and by commercial banks, but after taking all their transactions into account, the main facts are incontrovertible, that the lenders are more numerous, and are poorer than the borrow ers. If this be so then the restriction of the rate of interest will not be a protection to the poor against the exactions of the rich.

To these facts the general observation is added that it is impossible to regulate the market value of money by law, and any re striction of the rate of interest will only in crease the cost to the borrower, who must pay the cost of evading the law, in addition to the market rate Instead of giving his note to the bank which lends the money, he sells it to a friend, who sells it at a discount to the bank, or, when he wants money on real estate, instead of giving a mortgage, he must sell his land to the bank, which gives him a bond to sell it back to him at an ad vanced figure, and he must then take a lease paying rent until he can buy back his own property. There are so many ways of evad ing the restriction that even if it were oth erwise politic, the impossibility of enforcing it and the encouragement which it gives to deception and fraud would be sufficient rea sons for opposing it.

THE BERLIN SETTLEMENT

England could not refrain from her hurrah over the Berlin treaty It was a result which flattered her with the idea of a great national victory. Ministers, people, and press have endeavored to make the most of it by claim ing that Russia was overreached in the game of diplomacy, and to support the theory the press has even gone so far as to assert that there is great dissatisfaction in Russia with a result which looks to that country like a humiliating defeat. But the other side is gradually making itself heard Gen Ignatieff has written a letter which obtains publi cation, in which he says "I suppose no one but a fool can think that I expected the treaty I drew up with Turkey las. March to stand in its integrity I asked double, ex pecting half to be ruffled by the powers But they have gone infinitely beyond [illegible] Constantinople will remain that fortress the strongest in the world, and absolutely im pregnable. Prof. Goldwin Smith has recently written on the Berlin settlement, giving the views of the class of Englishmen who look beyond the supposed triumph of the present hour. He says. 'The treaty of Berlin gives Russia all she sought It gives her Bessarabia, it gives her everything she expected in Asia. The division of Bul garia is all in her favor If she has any bad designs, since two weak Bulgarias will be more liable to her influence than a single strong one, Bulgaria is divided, Roumania is dismembered, Servia is disappointed, the gallant Montenegrins are sacrificed to Aus trian jealousy, Roumelia is thrust back under the Turkish yoke Greece, after being restrained from helping herself and taking advantage of Russian assistance, is put off with a paltry rectification of front er while Thessaly and Epirus are again consigned to the prison-house of Ottoman cruelty and ex tortion, and unhappy Crete is given back to her murderous oppressor. As the price of this betrayal England receives Cyprus about which Russia cares nothing People who raise a shout of triumph over this acquisition seem to have forgotten that Nicholas himself offered England Egypt and Crete." England is not in a humor to hear these things now but she will be ready to hear them within a few years, when this long-mooted "eastern question," which is not settled at all but is only involved in further difficulties, again puts up its head to disturb Europe

SOLAR PHENOMENA AND THEIR EF FECTS.

Prof. Draper, who observed the recent eclipse, refers to the result of his observa tions as indicating a very quiet condition of the sun In a spectrum photograph which he obtained he discovers oxygen, whose presence in the sun was previously unknown He makes these statements

I did not anticipate seeing any large prominences in the edge of the sun on the day of the eclips e, because I had actually gone around the entire edge of the sun the day previous with our large telescope and found that the chromosphere or first atmosphere of the sun was very low merely con sisting of short tongues of fire The chromosphere was so low that its flames did not impress themselves on the spectrum photographs

It is rather singular while the sun has been in such a quiescent condition for more than two years that we have not seen more changes in the climate of the earth This would seem to show that the abnormal condition of the sun at the maximum period of sun spots which occurs every eleven years, counts for but little against the total amount of heat that is sent out from the sun at all times. The present observations go to show that the activity or quiescence of the sun makes no per ceptible difference in the earth's condition I do not regard this most marked change in the corona as portending any change in the condition of either sun or earth

As opposed to these views Norman Lock yer of England who stands high in the as tronomical circles of Europe draws different deductions and some not a little startling He says

It is a remarkable thing that after all our pat ient study of eclipses this last one should trade ex hibited phenomena in the least anticipated I as sist the doctrine that goes to the continental super ium from other known gaseous constituents The present eclipse has accomplished if nothing else set elements result of inestimable value in our knowledge ascertaining down of the solar energy with the fact of its enormous responsibilities for the last four years the terrestrial magn ifying power of the most magnetic man it has been for the preceding forty years This would evidently [illegible] as well as the great tumbles in Ma and India which took place forty four years

The sun is the great [illegible] ment ver of earth Every cloud every tide every air current depends upon it. Its present quiet condition indicates great heat on earth When in a state of activity the sun throws out on atmosphere which serves as a shield to the earth protecting it from abnormal influences of the sun The absence of the green lines shows a great reduction in the temperature of the sun and such a marked change in the sun should produce a corresponding change on the earth. A continuation of the changing of the sun s condition must inevitably be followed by serious results and radical climatic variations

To changes in the sun Prof Lockyer is positive the great famines and droughts that have afflicted the earth are due. He regards the recent eclipse as the most important that has been observed in many years in throwing much needed light on many points hitherto obscured in doubt.

Recent intelligence from Washington is to the effect that the authorities will take no action at present with reference to Sitting Bull being convinced that his condition is helpless and that ultimately he will become a prisoner by surrender It is represented that he is starving and must soon succumb He declines to express any penitence for his criminal deeds He and his followers will be arrested and treated as prisoners of war upon setting foot on American soil The action of the British government in harboring Sitting Bull in Canada, is objected to at Washing ton the cabinet holding that Canada would expect the United States to refuse aid and sustenance to Canadian subjects who had committed crimes of the character perpetrat ed by Sitting Bull The commissioner of Indian affairs says no government official will assume responsibility for Sitting Bull's good behavior if he is allowed to remain on his return

A communication on the subject of state taxation, printed to day, contains suggestions which seem very worthy of attention If the ideas therein briefly outlined be carefully elaborated and put in the form of a statute we are inclined to think that they will afford a remedy for one most important defect in our state revenue system The suggestions made refer mainly to equalization of values for the purposes of state taxation Other branches of the subject, as taxation of credits, exemption of indebtedness etc should be considered in the same connection The whole subject will probably be up for discus sion in the legislature, and it is greatly to be hoped that something will be done at last to correct the crudeness and imperfection of our system of assessment and taxation We un derstand that a bill embodying the ideas con tained in the communication referred to will be submitted to the legislature

The Standard fervently says There is scarcely an honest man in Oregon who wishes to see a repetition of the events of 1876 in a Democratic legislature If this has refer ence to the Masters who were "pirouetting among the candidates for the senate on the search for coin for votes, it certainly is to be hoped that the scene will not be repeated

Senator Mitchell complains that he has been misrepresented He does not yet indi cate in what respect, but certainly it cannot be said that he has been misrepresented in this namely that it was the opposition and delay produced by his course in the senate which threw away the opportunity for pass ing the Northern Pacific extension bill

MONTAGUE'S SICKNESS.—A San Fran cisco exchange of the 10th inst has the fol lowing in relation to the sudden illness of Mr Montague the actor an account of whose death was published in the telegraphic reports last Monday "A large audience as sembled last night to witness the performance of False Shame for Mr Montague's bene fit. The beneficiary was, however taken suddenly ill in the midst of the first act and compelled to beg the indulgence of the au dience in a few painfully expressed words the curtain being rung down upon the scene After a wait of some minutes Mr Barton Hill appeared before the curtain and stated that it would be utterly impossible for Mr Monta gue to reappear, he being dangerously ill, asking at the same time if there were any medical gentleman present who would kindly come behind the scenes and give their services to the sufferer and that the play would be finished with Mr Ward in the part of Mr Montague, while Mr Ward's lines would be read by Mr Hill himself. He also informed the audience that if any of them so desired they could have their admission fee returned by making application at the office. Mr Montague's trouble was a violent attack of hemorrhage of the lungs, resulting from the severe cold from which he has suffered ever since his arrival in this city After under going temporary treatment at the theatre Mr Montague was placed upon a mattress and removed to his quarters at the Palace Hotel

NO WARRANT NECESSARY.—A man named Marks who resides on B street became in volved in a domestic broil last evening and on complaint of his wife was arrested Officer Henline was detailed to arrest the belligerent husband Marks was arrested out in the front yard by the officer and being in his shirt sleeves at the time, he requested the officer to allow him to go into his house to get his coat. Henline good naturedly per mitted him to enter his house No sooner had Marks crossed his own threshold than he turned defiantly on the officer and said Now sir, I am in my own house you show me your warrant or I'll not go with you' Officer Henline waived all formalities in the case and rightly concluding that the end justified the means, he grabbed hold of the fellow and tumbled him head over heels out of his domicil, and led him off in triumph to the city jail. His case will be the subject of judicial investigation in police court to-day

FLOODED STREET.—About 11 o'clock Tues day some person, in passing the corner of Washington and First streets, opened, unobserved, the fire plug and started the water flowing. No person could be found who knew how to shut off the water, which con tinued to pour out until the streets were in undated. A number of ineffectual efforts were made to close this valve, and finally it was necessary to send for Mr. Struble, who is con nected with the Water Company. Mr S did not reach the place until about 2 o'clock in the morning when he quickly shut off the water The person who caused all the mis chief made good his escape

WEDDING SERENADE.—Mr Frank Jens of the Canyon Gardens was married last even ing, the affair being celebrated very pleasantly, and as the happy groom thought, quite privately, but shortly after the ceremony, the members of the Northwestern band hav ing heard of the event, and all the members being acquainted with and on the best of terms with Frank, proceeded to the residence and gave him and his bride some of their fin est music in the way of a wedding serenade.
The band was hospitably entertained, and Mr. Jens and his young wife desire to express their thanks for the spontaneous compliment.

Y. M. C. A. Rooms.—Capt. Wilkinson, re cently from the Indian campaign, was pres ent and conducted the services last evening and addressed the meeting in his usual fervid and tender manner. An episode somewhat out of the usual course, lent interest to the meeting. It was the baptism of the infant daughter of Mr Henry and Mrs Emma Lar sen, of Sand's Fishery, W. T. The rite was administered by Chaplain Stubs, and the name given by the parents to their little daughter (born August 2, 1878), was Lelia Bartena Amelia

SHOULD BE STOPPED.—We hear of consider able complaint about the practice of drivers of swill carts They are in the habit of driving their cumbersome vehicles about the city during the day time, much to the dis gust of the citizens. The smell emanating from their carts is said to be very stunning to the olfactories Seriously, the practice ought to be stopped. There is no ordinance now in force against it. Will the city fathers attend to this matter without unnecessary delay?
It is to be hoped they will.

BUILDING DESTROYED.—Shortly before 12 o'clock last night a fire alarm was turned in from box 6, to which the fire department promptly responded A building situated a long distance beyond Smith Bros' foundry, on the macadamized road, was discovered in flames, and owing to the lateness of the hour and the distance, we were unable to obtain particulars. The building was entirely destroyed. On ascertaining the location of the fire, the companies returned to their respective engine houses

AN INSANE MAN.—A man named Wagner was arrested last evening at the Clarendon Hotel, charged with lunacy, and was escorted to the city jail. Wagner conducted himself in such a strange manner that the proprietors thought proper to notify the police. The unfortunate man is aged about 45 years, and, so far as is known, is unmarried. He will probably be examined to-day

FIRE SPECIMENS.—Hon D P Thompson has exhibited at this office a number of very handsome gold specimens (about eight ounces) which have been taken from the Sterling mine in Southern Oregon in which several well known citizens of Portland are largely interested. A pleasing up was made recently and the result was most satisfactory to those who are interested

ASSIGNEE SALE OF FURNITURE.—Remember the sale this morning at the corner of Front sets are to be disposed of, besides other good McGonigle, while at work yesterday at the car-shops had the misfortune to lose one of his fingers He was attempting to adjust some of the machinery when his finger was caught and badly mangled benevolent societies will assemble this after on First; headed by a band, and will march participate in the laying of the corner stone of the cathedral

A SERENADE.

Senator Mitchell who arrived on the Ehler yesterday morning was serenaded at the St Charles hotel last evening and in response said that his hearers need not expect a speech from him as he had just come off one of the most disagreeable sea voyages which he had ever made but he thanked them for the manifestations of welcome and kindness He had come to Oregon his old home, this time as he had come every year since he had been in the senate to give to the people an ac count of his stewardship He had been mis represented, and desired to meet his enemies face to face from the rostrum and give a satisfactory explanation of every vote and act of his while representing Oregon in the national congress There were many men in this city and state who were willing to do justice to their public servants and he desired to meet them and talk with them in regard to his conduct as senator He again expressed his gratitude to the people for their cordial welcome and said he should take opportunity to address them at length before leav ing the state (cries of "not be with in a week and it might be six weeks he did not know Thanking and bidding the audience good night the senator retired and the crowd dis persed

POSTER INFERIOR WHEAT SHIPMENTS

The following poster was read which had been prepared for general distribution through out the state The board ordered that $500 copies of the poster be printed and circulated The poster is addressed To the Farmers and Warehousemen

BOARD OF TRADE,
PORTLAND Aug 14 1878

In 1875 we directed the attention of our pro ducers and warehousemen to the fact that complaints had been made in the Liverpool markets at disadvantage caused because of various shipments from Oregon the preceding year, of inferior dirty shriveled and unsound wheat last year a repeti tion of the same evil took place Unsound and inferior wheat shipments were of such frequent occurrence that not only did the Liverpool pur chasers sustain heavy pecuniary losses having to guarantee as is the custom in England each ship ment when sold but a necessary consequence claims to the amount of thousands of dollars have been enforced against our shippers by buyers in the Liverpool markets who have this year resolved to purchase no carg es from Oregon which are mixed with foul or unsound wheat Accordingly Portland shippers have been compelled, for their own protection to stipulate with merchants producers and interior dealers that all wheat which is foul, dirty or unsound will be re jected and inspection of every parcel of wheat is to be made at Portland before placed on board It is therefore essential for our producers and in terior dealers to see that no wheat is shipped to Portland which is not clean merchantable wheat" as the withdrawal of an advance bid and ex pense will be incurred to the seller, and rejection of this wheat will certainly follow as a matter of course It is only by careful inspection that in terior dealers can prevent this loss, and Oregon wheat is in imminent danger of losing its rela tively higher values over the wheat of other states a loss which eventually would fall directly on the Oregon producer

MANUFACTURES AND SHIPBUILDING

Beyond a rope and twine factory in our city, and one or two other small enterprises, we have not made enough progress in manufactures this year. Offers have frequently been made from large manufacturing concerns in the east to come here and locate their factories among us provided their property would be exempt from taxation for one or twenty years By adopting this course Kansas, Iowa Nebraska and other states have per manently secured such large factories. Employ ing as these concerns do the vast number of work people, the yearly value of the manufactured goods the raw material which we produce here—now unutilized—it would seem of paramount importance to our state and people that the legislature should (if it can) authorize our cities and counties to give the exemption in special cases where it is appar ent the benefits to flow to the entire community would doubly compensate for the loss of taxes Besides a very large boot and shoe manufacturing firm can be induced to locate here, if the shipbuild ing firms in Maine have indicated a desire to locate their yards on the Columbia or Willamette rivers and commence shipbuilding on an exten sive scale, if the next legislature would give them total exemption from taxes for fifteen or twenty years to come It is unquestionably a settled fact that here at Portland we can build ships by at least 20 to 30 per cent cheaper than elsewhere in the United States or Europe and we believe the ves sels immediately after leaving their ways can be in the owners a profitable grain freight to the United kingdom, which cannot be said of any harbor lim iting country—now vessels as a rule leaving in ballast 9 000 to 10 000 miles before obtaining freight sufficient to meet their expenses Vessels built on the sound have proved these facts

RAILROAD CONNECTION WITH ATLANTIC STATES

And this year has come and I still our prospects of securing this much desired connection are as far off as ever. What the North Pacific will be able to do—or rather what congress will permit them to do at its next session this winter—it is doubtful at present to say. The Oregon Pacific company equipped with the U nion Pacific proposed road, depend for their existence upon the Union and Central Pacific Railroad Companies which it is apparent, are not disposed to give Oregon the desired connection until they see that the Northern Pacific or some other road has assurance of success Since the defeat of the Northern Pacific in June last negotiations have been again opened with the Central Pacific, as we learn, but nothing will result this year to encourage the construction of the Winnemucca branch but as yet without success We fear that their demands from the state are greater than the people seem at present disposed to give The Dash in search railroad is narrow gauge well under construction is however speedily but quietly working its way through Idaho in the di rection of Walla Walla and coins during the gan dersnap which are at the head of the streams the end of the present year will be but about two years earlier than our people had determined to build it or when shipments to California during the year now closed have however, again un fortunately increased from 4,000 tons in 1877 to 5,000 tons in 1878 so also have our neighbors in California become by the advantages which the access to San Francisco from dog the export trade of Oregon via the Golden Gate that the president of the San Francisco chamber of com merce speaking recently on this subject stated that owing to these causes Oregon wheat ex ports to San Francisco had increased already to 5 000 tons and in his annual report just received he says Should these intentions be carried out it is most likely that the bulk (may be more) of Oregon's surplus products will in future be sent there either for sale or for shipment to Europe or elsewhere

It will be a great calamity to the people and commerce of the Pacific coast, and the bulk of Or egon's surplus products in future (as San Fran cisco anticipates exported abroad through that city Our merchants in the past have to lously endeavored to and have partly succeeded in build ing up and developing Oregon's direct foreign ex port trade with Europe and if we would earnestly urge on our shippers the necessity of insisting to shipowners abroad truthful information with charts of the Columbia river and bar and urge liberal appropriations from congress for early improvement of same, will not all that is neces sary in time be given Oregon wheat cheap freight in order to the United Kingdom in our first class ships and with this assurance we can confidently look forward to the time when Portland will have her fleet of 20 to 30 first class vessels loading at her docks and ready to take wheat to Europe in ought these columns

WOOL

We exported to San Francisco according to the statistics of the Chamber of Commerce of that city 11 647 pounds of wool during 1877 and 13 499 pounds being an increase of 1 852 pounds over the preceding year exclusive of what has been consumed by the Oregon City Brownsville Ashland Dayton, and other woolen mills within this state. It was anticipated that our exports of wool for the present year (ending 31st December 18 8) would amount close on to 6 000 000 pounds, but keeping in view the losses sustained by the In dian troubles in the sheep country it is now feared that we will not reach that quantity this year Prices have ruled low compared to preced ing years

BEEF

The new industry started in 1876 of canning beef for foreign markets has not proved very profit able during 1877 only 8 000 cases exported in 1877 78 compared to 25 000 cases in 1876 7 But as a comparison for this loss it is gratifying to know that the demand for cattle for the Eastern States from Eastern Oregon and Washington Ter ritory has increased wonderfully and we have re munerative prices to our stock men The Indian troubles will set this industry back a little this present year which however, will only prove temporary The partial drouth which happened in California during last year was of great ad vantage to Eastern and Southeastern Oregon large numbers of stock raisers from California having settled in these portions of the state

In the minor articles of export such as oats, po tatoes, hay, butter, eggs, etc., Oregon has also made a greater progress in 1877-78 than during the year preceding the principal markets for these ex ports being San Francisco

SHIPPING

The indications being that we shall have be tween 180,000 and 200,000 surplus tons of wheat to export we are exceedingly anxious to know what pro spect now exists for tonnage. California will absorb a very large number of ships this year and as the oppo sition lines of steamers carry freight to San Fran cisco at very low rates we cannot expect vessels will come up from that city to load at Portland From all the information we can gather however, the prospects are that those vessels which are heading for Portland together with those which we know are to be dispatched hereafter to this port will we hope be able to carry away this year's surplus, at moderate freights equally as reasonable if not much lower than last year

SHIPMENTS OF UNSOUND AND DIRTY WHEAT

In 1875 we directed the attention of our produ cers and warehousemen to the fact that complaints had been made in the Liverpool markets at disad vantage caused because of various shipments from Oregon the preceding year of alleged inferior dirty and shriveled wheat During last season parcels of wheat were at times rejected in conse quence of inferiority of quality but it is to be feared that some of such lots eventually reached Liverpool and that in consequence not only did the Liverpool purchasers sustain heavy losses having to guarantee (as is the custom in England) each shipment when sold but a necessary consequence claims to the amount of thousands of dollars have been enforced against our shippers by buyers in the Liverpool markets who have this year resolved to purchase no carg es from Oregon which are mixed with foul or unsound wheat Accordingly Portland shippers have been compelled for their own protection to stipulate with merchants producers and interior dealers that all wheat which is foul, dirty or unsound will be re jected and inspection of every parcel of wheat is to be made at Portland before placed on board It is therefore essential for our producers and in terior dealers to see that no wheat is shipped to Portland which is not clean merchantable wheat" as the withdrawal of an advance bid and ex pense will be incurred to the seller, and rejection of this wheat will certainly follow as a matter of course It is only by careful inspection that in terior dealers can prevent this loss, and Oregon wheat is in imminent danger of losing its rela tively higher values over the wheat of other states a loss which eventually would fall directly on the Oregon producer

The monetary movement is more active and the aggregate capital in general circulation is expected very soon to show a material increase The grain harvest has progressed very rapidly during the fine weather, and the receipts at this point show a gradual increase Here as according to our advices in San Francisco, there is still a good deal of ease in the money market for the reason that a variety of causes has operated to concentrate capital, and rates of discount and interest are not likely to appreciate Indeed it is not likely that we shall return to former rates even with a strong pressure for money Borrowers cannot afford to pay the rates formerly exacted in the pursuance of any legitimate business and now that bankers are extremely careful about the collateral deposited to secure loans and closely scrutinize the occupation of the borrower they can scarcely hope to get such high figures for loans as formerly prevailed.

The Call says the government has been again endeavoring to purchase gold in San Francisco with New York exchange at a low rate, but the banks having learned that the $1 000,000 of gold recently transferred to the sub treasury was to be transported to New York have so far known, declined to negotiate. Secretary Sherman is naturally anxious to secure as much gold as possible, for resumption purposes. Having secured so much, his bids to get $7 000 000 more naturally alarmed bankers and they have concluded to abstain from further purchases of New York exchange, the gold price for which is to be paid into the sub-treasury

New System of Wagon Brakes.

TRULLINGER PATENT BRAKE.

NO HOGS TO WEAR OUT TIRES

No Broke Bar used. Will hold a Wagon anywhere from Backing or going forward.

THIS NEW BRAKE NOW BEING INTRODUCED by the inventor J C Trullinger is a combination of friction gear applied to the hub of a wagon It is simple and light, yet has great strength and durability than any other wagon brake now in use It is so attached to the wagon that it is out of the way of the gearing yet always reliable and at hand when required Any teamster or mechanic can see at once its utility and effective force to hold a load on a down grade or to prevent horse backing when required The Brake is made entirely of iron no wooden part being necessary as no brake bar is used hence it does not carry mud and is not affected by wet and muddy or icy roads.

We invite critical examination as we believe its merits can be demonstrated to any party who uses or understands a wagon brake
